“When you look at the real players, they move as you would expect them to move on the pitch,” said Steve Moore, FIFA Executive Producer. “Players run; players tackle; players communicate on the pitch; players break down, draw, and weave through their opponents. This technology lets us accurately simulate these player actions and makes the game look so convincing. It's an incredible achievement." Watch a gameplay video highlighting the new features: Key Features: Real life player movement, on-the-ball awareness and interaction. The quickest first-time passing and the most realistic decision-making. Dynamic response to pressure on the ball and on and off the ball. Players show variable ball control depending on the situation, pitch and specific opponent. New individual technical attributes allow players to exhibit their technical understanding, skill level and passing ability. FIFA22 introduces "HyperMotion Technology," which uses motion capture data collected from real-life players playing a complete, high-intensity football match in motion capture suits. The data collected from player movements, tackles, aerial duels and on-ball actions is used to power gameplay. Dynamic response to pressure on the ball, on and off the ball. The data collected from player movements, tackles, aerial duels and on-ball actions is used to power gameplay. Real-life player movement and on-the-ball awareness. Pace of play remains extremely accurate as players struggle to maintain their perfect posture and balance. Shots and passes have a realistic arc, and the combination of accuracy and speed is unparalleled. Real decision-making leads to a much more authentic passing style. Players show variable ball control depending on the situation. Sensitivity to player pressure makes tackles more realistic and gives a sense of the threat. The player is more aware of, and quickly aware of, opponents' pressure. Reaction to and recovery from pressure is also more realistic, with on-the-ball touches and passes in tight situations almost always accurate. New pass qualities and aerial du
